

Magiglass Creations

We are a 'not for profit' Community Transport Organisation, and broadening our activities to collect waste glass from local sources.

Glass waste is brought to our depot and made into glass cullet; sharp free pieces of glass, and sold in its raw state or mixed with concrete or resin to create artefacts for sale.

Magiglass Glass

Our creative glass is the direct product of recycled glass bottles.

Bottles of various sizes and colours are collected from hotels, public houses and retail establishments in Powys.

They are then fed into our machine which implodes the bottles into a variety of cullet sizes; a sieve unit then separates the size of the glass cullet.

Imploded glass is sharp free and safe to handle. The glass cullet is a safe and attractive option for pathways, or as a decorative glass for plant pots and gardens. It is also a great deterrent for slugs and snails.

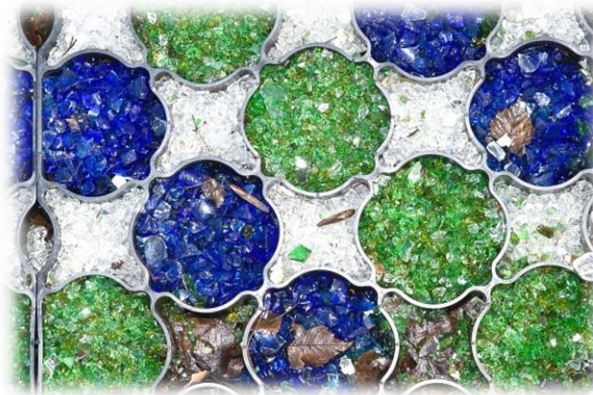

Other Glass Uses:

Glass cullet can be used for water filtration, and as an attractive coloured base for fish and reptile tanks – for the latter, ensure the glass is washed in warm soapy water and dried prior to use. Follow the same washing procedure when the glass becomes soiled.

Fine sizes can be used in resin, plaster or concrete castings.

Large sizes can be used as an aggregate replacement in concrete.
